

READ to succeed

When children read any book for 20 minutes, they can color in a square on the choice board provided. The activities listed in each square are merely fun suggestions to help encourage summer reading. Send your child's completed choice board with an adult signature during the first week of school for your student to receive a prize.

GRADE 2 SUGGESTIONS

SUMMER READING fun facts

Reading just 4-5 books over the summer can prevent a decline in reading skills.

Children are more likely to read books they pick themselves.

Most children say they enjoy reading in the summer.

When children see family members reading, they tend to read more often.

Children who read in their free time improve in comprehension, vocabulary, and fluency.

Having interesting books nearby increases the chances that a child will choose one to read.
